Earl Rubesam, twelve years old, whose mother lives at 9th and Providence streets, Brookland, was drowned in the Northwest branch, about one mile from Hyattsville, last night. Earl and a companion named Otho Holland went swimming last night, Holland heard his friend scream and became frightened. He left the branch and hurried home. Upon reaching home he told of his experience, and when the Rube-same boy failed to return friends went to the branch and made a search. His body was soon recovered. Coroner Suit of Hyattsville gave a certificate of accidental death and the body was removed to the bome of the boy's mother. Undertaker Lowe prepared the body for burial.

BLOCKADE LIFTED.

for Reduction Plant.

The garbage blockade in Washington will be lifted this afternoon, when eight freight cars loaded with tanks of refuse matter will leave the freight depot of the Southern railroad for the reduction plant of the Washington Fertilizer Company, located at Cherry Hill, Va.

For the past three or four days the residents of Washington have been unable to have their garbage removed from their residences, and as a result the Commissioners' offices were deluged with a flood of protests against the unsatisfactory conditions. Commissioner West, who has charge of the street cleaning department, started an investigation into the causes for the conplaints and ascertained that the garbage company had been unable to obtain tanks and cars for the removal of the refuse to the reduction plant in Virginia. It was stated that the railroad company had placed the cars containing the tanks on a siding somewhere between Washington and Cherry Hill, and as a consequence there was no place to empty the garbage from Acting Superintenden't Twohey of the street cleaning department stated that more than fifty garbage wagons were at the freight depot of the Southern railroad yesterday and the day before waiting to un-load. There were no tanks at hand, however, and as there was no place to dump the garbage it had to remain in the wagons. Hence the refuse accumulated at the residences in the city and the citizens of Washington made a vigorous protest.

Commissioner West last evening wrote to the railroad company requesting it to do something to relieve the congested condisomething to relieve the congested condi-tions, and today eight cars were provided for the removal of the garbage. The wagons were unloaded and sent out over the city to collect other refuse, and it is thought that the city will be cleaned by tomorrow night. If the garbage is not all collected by tomorrow night Mr. Twohey collected by tomorrow night Mr. Twohey states that the collection will be continued through Sunday.

No More "Planked Shad." After 12 o'clock tonight "planked shad" will be taken from the menu cards in the local hotels and restaurants. This will be done because the law says that no such fresh shad or herring are to be had in possession or offered for sale after today.

The present season has not been a profitable one with the fishermen down the Potomac, they say, because of the scarcity of the fish. The catch of shad this spring has not been as large as usual. On account of the quantity of ice in the river no shad were caught in the Potomac during the months of January and February. The total catch this season, as shown by the re-ports of Gwynne Harris, inspector of marine products, will aggregate about 137,800, while last year the catch amounted to 184,444. While the catch of Potomac stock was small, dealers in other sections did not experience so much trouble in getting their supplies. It is said that shad fishing at Old Point was good for a short time, and that fishermen along the Delaware river had a good season. Many of the shad sold in the local market during the past three weeks were caught in the Kennebec.

Successful Grass Growers.

The soldiers of the United States army engineer's battalion stationed at Washington barracks have made a success of their efforts to raise lawn grass upon the new portion of the park redeemed from the Eastern branch early in the spring. About ten days ago the ground was harrowed over and sowed with grass seed. The warm weather and the rains have caused the seed to sprout with vigor, and now the ground is almost entirely hidden by the green growth, This portion of the reclaimed land was filled with earth from the Eastern branch, and is much richer ground than any of the other new additions to the park. The new buildings in process of erection in the park are also being pushed ahead rapidly

NEW STRUCTURE OCCUPIED.

Eight Carloads of Garbage to Leave First of New Buildings at St. Elizabeth's Completed. The large detached structure known as building "Q." in the extension of the Government Hospital for the Insane, has just been opened for the reception of women patients. This is the first of the thirteen new buildings to be occupied. It provides facilities for the treatment of 120 cases of a more or less chronic and disturbed type, heretofore distributed among the overcrowed wards of the old buildings. The removal of these patients to the "Q" cottage, the management says, has resulted not only in a substantial betterment in their condition, but has relieved the excess population that has gradually grown up in the institution within the last several years and the effects of which have been felt in all portions of the hospital Preparations for occupying the remaining new buildings are being made rapidly by Dr. White, the superintendent, who added to the "Q" building a kitchen, with supply rooms and cold storage apartment, before the removal of the patients was made.

Building "Q" is situated, with eight other structures, on the main grounds of the institution west of Nichols avenue and cen-tral to what will be the entire female department when the new structures are moved into. In these buildings 600 women will be cared for. Dr. Charles H. Clark, one of the assistant physicians in whose charge the women's department is entrusted, has supervision of building "Q." This building is, strictly speaking, the first one of the cottage type to be occupied at the government hosp tal. The building is divided into four wards, known as "Q 1," "Q 2," "Q 3" and "Q 4," each of which is in charge of two nurses. On the first floor sixty white patients are provided for in the two wards, while an equal number of colored women occupy quarters in the two above. quarters in the two above.

At night the patients occupy four dormitories, each capable of accommodating twenty inmates, while the remaining patients sleep in single rooms.

Two dining rooms, one for the white patients and the other for the colored, are located on the second floor. The kitchen is situated in the basement and the food is sent up in dumb waiters to be served. The next structure of the hospital ex-tension to be occupied will be building E, the home for women nurses. It is adjacent to Q cottage.

FIRE ESCAPE ADOPTED. Jefferson School Building Equipped

After a Test. Clef Engineer Wm. T. Belt of the fire department and Inspector Lawson of the building department today reported to Commissioner Macfarland that the test of the Kirker-Bender fire escape, which was recently erected on the Jefferson school building, has proved to be very satisfactory and they have recommended its acceptance. The Commissioners have approved the recommendation. Considerable interest attaches to the report of Chief Belt and Inspector Lawson relative to the fire escape, inasmuch as the escape on the Jefferson school building is the first one to be erected on any school building in the District. This fire escape is a sort of inclosed spiral chute erected perpendicularly alongside the windows, reaching from the ground to the upper story. Entrance to the escape is gained by means of an iron platform extending from the windows to the chute. The person using the escape enters the chute by means of a door and sitting down slides to the ground without injury.

A practical test of the escape was made at the Jefferson school yesterday, when several children climbed into the chute at the third story and had a merry slide to the bottom. The little folks were not frightened in the least and after the first ride down the chute were eager to make a second trip ovr the spiral route.

Commissioner Macfarland, it is stated, inaugurated the movement for equipping the school buildings three stories or more in height with proper fire escapes. It was decided to test the Kirker-Bender escape, and Mr. Macfarland expressed himself as highly continued as the continued of the continued highly gratified at the success of the ex-It is stated that an official inspection and test of the escape on the Jefferson school building will be made next Wednesday af-
